

5-Week Ignatian Retreat

Conversations with Christ in Turbulent Times

Five-week retreats invite you to daily prayer and reflection in the Ignatian tradition. Weekly group meetings allow you to share your prayer experiences and better recognize God's action in your prayer and life. Retreat directors offer input on prayer, development of one's spiritual life and daily prayer exercises.

In unsettled times, we can look to spirituality as a foundation and source for making meaning, for perspective, for comfort and for discerning approaches to sustainable living when familiar routines and assumptions are challenged.

In the Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius, the life of Christ is examined not for intellectual pursuit but as a way of encountering the living God who has taken on the fullness of the human condition. How does God see us and see me during this time of unrest and uncertainty? What is my response? In this retreat we look to the beginning movements of the Exercises to enter into dialogue with God. We will use Ignatian approaches to prayer, practice skills and develop dispositions to engage with God who can be discovered in the real circumstances of our lives.
